LEMAK SPORTS MEDICINE & ORTHOPEDICS TO OPEN IN HOOVER

Dr. Lawrence (Larry) Lemak Opens a 10th Clinic in Central Alabama

Hoover, Alabama – February 7, 2012 – Lemak Sports Medicine and Orthopedics, a center of excellence in orthopedic surgery with expertise in all areas of orthopedics and sports medicine, opened its newest facility in Hoover Monday, February 6th. Dr. Amanda Martin will take the reins as Hoover's leading orthopedic physician, providing unsurpassed care to athletes, active professionals and youth.

Lemak Sports Hoover is located at 2949 John Hawkins Parkway next to the Patton Creek shopping center – a great location that allows the Hoover community convenient access to some of the best orthopedic care in the country. Dr. Amanda Martin will provide patient care for a variety of orthopedic needs whether it is a strain, sprain, or an acute injury. She is also fully committed to being heavily involved in community events.

"Local participation in civic organizations, senior independent living facilities and the community as a whole is the cornerstone for success in our practice," said Dr. Martin. "We appreciate all of the opportunities the Hoover and surrounding communities have offered and hope we continue to have the opportunity to be involved."

Dr. Martin is fellowship trained in Orthopedic Sports Medicine by the American Sports Medicine Institute under the leadership of world-renowned Dr. Lawrence Lemak. She is a graduate of The University of Arizona and completed her Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine at Oklahoma State University. Dr. Martin is currently the medical director for NCAA Soccer Cup, a consultant for Major League Soccer and serves as the team physician for Hueytown High School and Jacksonville State University. To date, Hoover will be the 10th clinic Lemak Sports Medicine has opened, and the practice could not be more excited.

Dr. Martin will continue performing surgeries at Trinity Medical Center on Montclair Road in Birmingham. To schedule an appointment with Dr. Martin please call the Hoover location at 205.444.2025 or the Birmingham location at 205.397.5200
